

Legs, Gluts – Standing Squats

Advice: Avoid pain. If an exercise causes you pain or other problems stop doing it. Allow yourself sufficient time to recover. Next time you repeat it, do it 50% more gentle (less power/ less repetitions/ less movement). If you have problems, please seek advice. Keeping a good posture throughout when doing this exercise is crucial. Have someone with expertise have a look at you doing it before you introduce to your routine. Remember you need to aim for no more than 50% of your maximum. See our 'Physical Rehab Advice' sheet for deciding on your reps.
